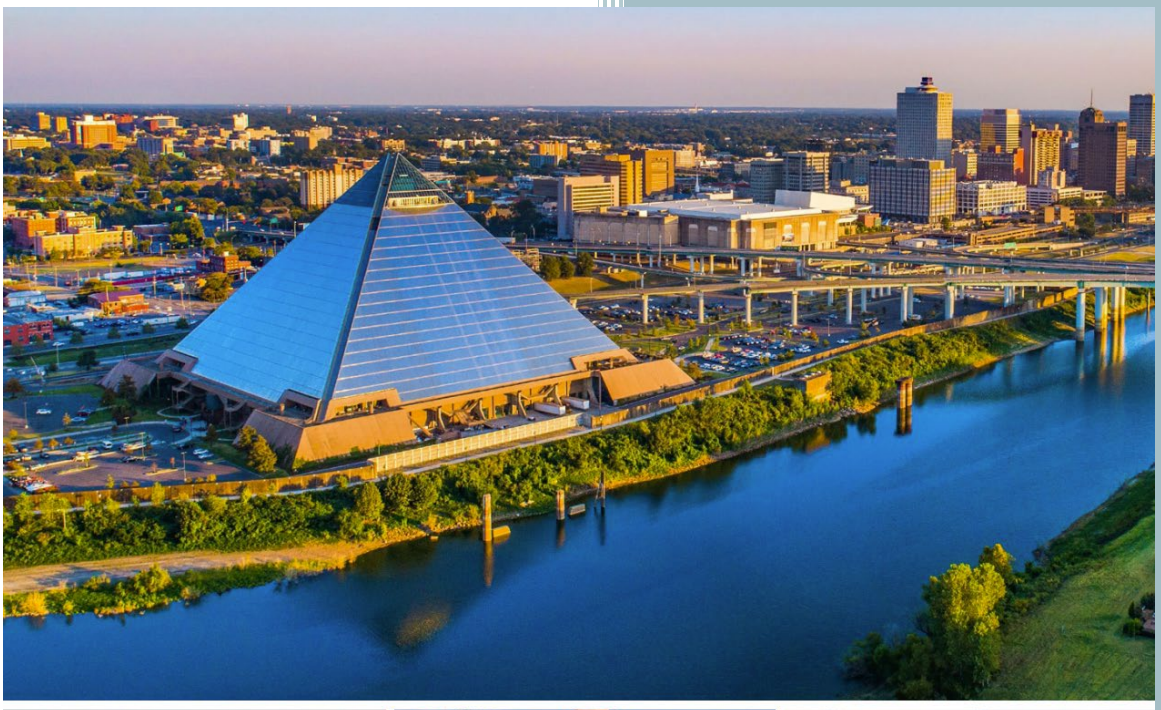
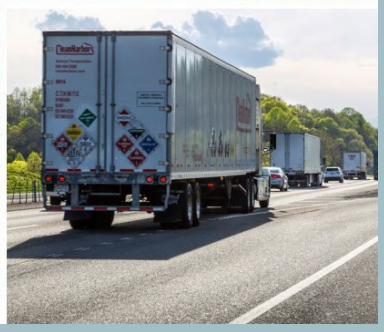
Mid-South Freight Report





2024 Freight Report Summary

The Memphis Urban Area Metropolitan Planning Organization (Memphis MPO) is pleased to present the 2024 Report on the state of freight in the Mid-South. This summary provides an overview of the key statistics and insights into the freight sector's pivotal role in our regional economy, infrastructure, and planning initiatives.

This report is based on a number of different data sources, with the latest available data being between 2022 and early 2024 depending on the subject.

Importance of Freight to Memphis

Memphis is a critical nexus for freight transportation in the United States, strategically positioned at the intersection of major north-south and east-west corridors that facilitate the movement of goods across the country and beyond. Home to one of the world's busiest cargo airports, five Class I railroads, the fifth largest inland port in the United States, and a comprehensive road network, Memphis stands as a premier freight hub. The freight industry not only drives economic growth but also accounts for over one hundred thousand jobs, or 17.5% of total regional employment (per the Bureau of Labor and Statistics), reinforcing Memphis's position as a critical logistics and distribution center.

Current Statistics and Trends

- Air Cargo: Memphis International Airport maintained its status as the busiest cargo airport in North America, despite a 4.0% decrease in cargo volume from the previous year, handling over 3.8 million metric tons of cargo.[1]
- Rail Freight: Rail continues to be an important factor for the Memphis region, with national U.S. rail traffic up 2.2% through April 2024 compared to the previous year to date.[2]
- Trucking: Trucks account for 42% of freight tonnage in the Memphis region, and 48% of freight value. In Q1 2024, the American Trucking Association reported that national trucking tonnage decreased by 2.4% from last year.[3]
- Inland Waterways: Record low water levels on the Mississippi in 2022 and 2023 have reduced shipping capacity, with barge freight rates increasing as a result.[4]

Freight Infrastructure Developments

2024 has marked significant progress in upgrading and expanding the Memphis region's freight infrastructure. Key projects included enhancements to rail access routes, expansion of port facilities, and upgrades to critical highway segments. These improvements have not only increased capacity but also enhanced the safety and efficiency of freight movements across the region.

Critical Freight Project Updates:

1. I-55 and Crump Interchange: This interchange project will convert the existing one-lane cloverleaf, which is designed to accommodate less than half of current traffic volumes, to a roundabout for local drivers and a flyover for I-55 thru-traffic.
2. America's River Crossing: Right next door to the Crump Interchange, the 75-year-old I-55 bridge will soon be replaced with a new bridge that has higher capacity and meets modern seismic resistance standards. Tennessee has allocated $250 million in funding through the 2023 Transportation Modernization Act and is seeking other federal and state funding sources. The project is currently undergoing environmental assessment.
3. Shelby Drive: This project will extend Shelby Drive with a bridge into the southern end of the Port of Memphis, creating a second access point to the Port's water and rail connections. The project is currently in environmental review.
4. DeSoto County I-55 Widening: As of May 2024, Mississippi has allocated $119 for Phase I of widening I-55 from 4 to 8 lanes between Goodman and Church Road. County officials are still seeking approximately $30 million in funding to complete Phase I.
5. Lamar Avenue: One of the most crucial freight routes in Memphis. The southern end from Getwell Road to the MS state line is being converted into a widened freeway with interchanges. This is being constructed in three stages: the first, from the MS state line to Shelby Drive, was completed in July 2023.

6. Mississippi and Tennessee Truck Parking Studies: MDOT is currently conducting a study to evaluate the current and expected future truck parking supply and demand across the state of Mississippi, while TDOT is working on a study to identify 20 potential truck parking locations statewide.
7. Harbor Avenue Resurfacing: This project about to begin construction will replace and reinforce the pavement on the Port of Memphis's access roads to better accommodate the heavy truck traffic they carry.

Safety

Safety is a paramount concern for the Memphis MPO. Ensuring the safe transport of goods is crucial not only for the efficiency of supply chains but also for the well-being of the community and the prevention of hazardous incidents.

The Memphis MPO integrates safety into every aspect of its freight planning strategies. This includes advocating for robust infrastructure maintenance, supporting the adoption of advanced safety technologies in vehicles and logistic operations, and fostering collaboration among regional stakeholders such as stake and local governments, freight operators, and enforcement agencies. These priorities reflect Goal 2 of the Moving Together 2050 Regional Transportation Plan, which is to "Increase the safety and security of the transportation system for all users". The 2023 Mid-South Freight Flows Study also make it a high-priority, foundational strategy to "Prioritize and invest in projects that improve freight safety". This reflects the understanding that a safe transportation network is foundational to the sustained economic vitality and quality of life in the Greater Memphis Region.

The maps and statistics shown below provide a detailed overview of the current state of freight transportation safety within the Memphis MPO planning area. By analyzing this data, stakeholders can better identify areas of concern, prioritize interventions, and measure the effectiveness of safety improvements. This information is essential for continuous enhancement of our strategic planning processes and for ensuring that our transportation network remains safe and efficient for all users.

Rail

Due to safety improvements and the prioritization of systemic safety by the Federal Railroad Administration, railroad at-grade crossing incidents are relatively rare in the Memphis MPO region. As such, the map below covers approximately 4.5 years, shows incidents from 2020 through the publishment of this report in May 2024. The two railroad crossings with 5 incidents in this period are at Chelsea Ave just west of Warford St, and South Parkway just east of Willett Street.

Traffic Congestion

The Memphis MPO uses the Level of Travel Time Reliability, Truck Travel Time Reliability, and Peak Hours of Excessive Delay per mile (PHED) as performance measures to understand and address road congestion affecting freight traffic. The TTR Index measures the consistency of travel times on the network, allowing the MPO to identify and prioritize improvements on unreliable corridors. The TTTR Index focuses on the reliability of truck travel times on interstates, helping to pinpoint bottlenecks and optimize freight movement through infrastructure enhancements and traffic management strategies.

PHED measures the hours during which travel speeds fall below a certain threshold during peak periods, highlighting areas with significant congestion. By analyzing these metrics, the Memphis MPO can develop long-term strategies to reduce delays and improve travel reliability for freight, ensuring efficient and timely delivery essential for the regional economy.

Article VIII
VOTING

1. A motion of the TPB shall be approved by a majority vote of the members present and voting on all issues before the TPB.
2. Following a regular vote of the TPB, any Voting Member may introduce a motion to put the action to a "Critical Issue" vote. If the motion is seconded, the action is suspended until reconsideration under the "Critical Issues" rules of these Bylaws.
3. If a deadline is not pending, the requested "Critical Issue" vote shall occur at the TPB's next scheduled meeting. If, as decided by the Chair, postponing a "Critical Issue" vote until the next regularly scheduled meeting will result in a missed federal, state, or statutory deadline or prevent a project from going to construction in a timely fashion, the "Critical Issue" vote shall be taken at either a specially called meeting, subject to the rules of Article VI, or at the same meeting where the "Critical Issue" vote was declared.
4. A "Critical Issue" may only be requested by a member in relation to action by the Board on the adoption or amendment to the following items.
    a. Regional Transportation Plan
    b. Transportation Improvement Program
    c. Bylaws
    d. Unified Planning Work Program
5. A "Critical Issue" vote requires a 2/3 (66.7%) majority of all eligible votes (134 of 200 possible votes) to carry. Upon the failure of a Critical Issue vote to carry, the motion will be considered as adopted according to the result of the non-critical vote.
6. The current allocation of eligible "Critical Issue" votes is contained in Appendix "A" of these By-Laws. Said Appendix shall be revisited and updated as deemed necessary by the TPB.

Article IX

PERFORMANCE MEASURES

PM3 - CMAQ

TPB Item # 6

2ND CMAQ PERFORMANCE PERIOD - MIDPOINT

The following is reference material to aid in the discussion and adoption of targets established for the federal Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality (CMAQ) program. The Memphis MPO has the opportunity to revisit the targets every two years and the mid-point for the 2nd CMAQ Performance Period, will end on October 1, 2024. For the PM3 CMAQ program, the current performance cycle covers the years 2022-2026 with mid-performance reporting occurring in 2024 and the final performance reporting scheduled to occur in 2026.

Regulations established two Traffic Congestion Measures (Subpart G) and one On-Road Mobile Source Emissions Reduction Measure (Subpart H) for the CMAQ Program.

Subpart G (Traffic Congestion) - The regulation requires a single, unified target for the entire Memphis, TN-MS-AR Urbanized Tri-State Area. TDOT, MDOT, ARDOT, West Memphis MPO & Memphis MPO, must agree on one single target for Peak-Hour Excessive Delay (PHED) and Percent of Non-Single Occupancy Vehicle (SOV) Travel Measures.

After reviewing the data for the two Traffic Congestion Measures at the mid-point, it is recommended to adjust the 4-year target for the Peak-Hour Excessive Delay measure, as noted below. The following updated target will be presented for adoption at the May 23, 2024 ETC & TPB meetings.

Subpart G: Traffic Congestion – Memphis, TN-MS-AR Urbanized Area
	Baseline* (2022)	4-Year Target (2026)	Updated 4-Year Target (2026)
Annual Hrs. of Peak-Hr. Excessive Delay (PHED) per Capita	8.4 Hours	9.6 Hours	10.8 Hours

 The baseline was established at the time of reporting for the beginning of the second CMAQ performance period.*

PHED - Ongoing and upcoming major construction projects, in Tennessee, Mississippi, and Arkansas areas, continue to have an impact on delays on the roadway network, including ongoing projects such as the I-55 Crump Blvd Interchange and the Lamar Avenue widening project(s). Data from the National Performance Management Research Data Set (NPMRDS) was reviewed, which provides travel time delay per month for all urbanized areas in the Nation, including the Memphis TN-MS-AR Urbanized Tri-State area. This data set showed that the highest monthly value for travel time delay, has increased from 0.8 hours to 0.9 hours since the previous target setting period. The same methodology was applied and the value was multiplied by 12 (months) to get 10.8 hours for the Annual Hrs. of PHED target for the Tri-State area.

% Non-SOV - The American Community Survey (ACS) data from the U.S. Census Bureau was reviewed, and it shows a continued increase in the overall Non-SOV travel from 15.9% in 2018 to 19.7% in 2022, for the Memphis Tri-State Urbanized Area. This increase is likely due to the continued opportunities to work from home. Based on the data, it was recommended to keep the 16.2% target, which was reported in the baseline of the 2nd CMAQ performance period and adopted at the May 19, 2022 ETC & TPB meetings.

Subpart H (On-Road Mobile Source Emissions) – The regulation requires individual statewide targets. Tennessee and Mississippi set separate targets, which apply to CMAQ funded projects. For the Memphis MPO this includes reduced emissions for Nitrogen Oxides (NOx) & Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs).

After reviewing the data for the Total Emissions Reductions Measure at the mid-point, it was recommended to adjust the 4-year Total Emissions Reductions target for Tennessee, as noted below. The following updated target will be presented for adoption at the May 23, 2024 ETC & TPB meetings.

Subpart H: On-Road Mobile Source Emissions - Tennessee (TDOT)
	Baseline* (2018-2021)	4-Year Target (2026)	Updated 4-Year Target (2026)
Total Emissions Reductions (VOC) kg/day	51.440	42.072	30.854
Total Emissions Reductions (NOx) kg/day	201.137	50.671	27.808

 The baseline was established at the time of reporting for the beginning of the second CMAQ performance period.*

Total Emissions Reductions - The Memphis MPO is designated as a Maintenance Area for Ozone (VOC & NOx) and is required to establish targets for the on-road mobile source emissions measure, in both Tennessee and Mississippi. In Tennessee, the Knoxville MPO is also required to report on this performance measure and was included as part of the TDOT working group in establishing the single statewide target. For the Total Emissions Reductions targets, CMAQ-funded projects, reported in the FHWA CMAQ Public Access System (UPACS) were reviewed, and it was recommended to adjust the 4-year target to the actual emissions reported in UPAC, from 2022-2024. In Mississippi, it was recommended to keep the 4-year targets as ≥ 0, which was reported in the baseline of the 2nd CMAQ performance period and adopted at the May 19, 2022 ETC & TPB meetings.

Upcoming PM3 Target Setting – Based on the Transportation Performance Management timelines the remaining PM3: Travel Time Reliability and Freight Movement targets will be presented for adoption at the next ETC & TPB meetings, scheduled for November 21, 2024.

Roadway Functional Classification Amendments

Functional classification is the process by which streets and highways are grouped into classes, or systems, according to the role it plays in the overall system of the local, state and nation's street and highway network. The Memphis MPO underwent a major update to the Roadway Functional Classification System based on the 2020 Census Urbanized Area. Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) guidelines were followed when reviewing the proposed changes within the Memphis MPO Planning Area. The table on the following pages, includes the current and proposed functional classification changes, and the map below shows the proposed classification.
